Comedian Todd Barry: In 1999, New York based comedian Todd Barry made his Comedy Central Presents special. He then wrote, directed and starred in the short film "Borrowing Saffron" (2002) and has made a variety of guest appearances on shows like David Letterman, Conan, Dr. Katz (first playing himself then having a recurring role as the video store clerk), Home Movies, and Aqua Teen Hunger Force... just to name a few.

The subject of his recent solo show lcky describes the "merciless, unpitying trouncing he suffered" on alt.fan.conan-obrien, the Conan O'Brien newsgroup, following a guest appearance.

In 2003 Todd was named the "IT STANDUP" on the Entertainment Weekly IT List. He has appeared at numerous comedy festivals, including Just for Laughs and the US Comedy Arts Festival (Aspen) - where Todd won the Jury Award for Best Stand Up Comic.
