Description: Come join us as we laugh with Carl LaBove, one of the most mesmerizing acts on the comedy scene today. With 20 plus years of performance under his belt, he is in top form. Engaging an audience with his smooth demeanor and walking them through his phenomenal life experiences, audiences follow Carl into material that expresses the comical facets of the human condition. LaBove's shows are a must see. Relationships, The evil of Zoo's, Alcoholic friends, death, the family tree, and treachery by friends are some of the topics explored on any given performance. With many credits to his name; The Tonight Show, HBO, Showtime, and the BBC, Carl is now focused on his next project, a one man show based on his turbulent 13 year friendship with the late Sam Kinison, and the devastating secret that surfaced after Sam's death.
